ARCHDIOCESE OF LOUISVILLE TO FUND LARGEST MULTI-YEAR GIFT IN FOUNDATION’S 25-YEAR HISTORY

Archbishop Kurtz and Priest Council Commit to Historic $10 Million Donation Over Next Five Years

And the good news keeps getting better! The Archdiocese of Louisville will fund $10 million in support of the Foundation’s mission over the next five years, the largest gift of its kind in the organization’s 25-year history. The proceeds will be used to provide tuition assistance to families who cannot afford the full cost to attend a Catholic school in the Archdiocese of Louisville.

The archdiocesan commitment is a multi-year continuation of annual funding currently in place and also

CATHOLIC ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TUITION ASSISTANCE SOARS TO REACH ALL-TIME HIGH 3,400 STUDENTS

Aggregate Grants Rocket to Astounding Record $7 Million

Foundation Slogan “The Answer is Yes!” Fulfilled for Seventh Straight Year

Tuition assistance opportunities for Catholic elementary school families across central Kentucky reached new heights for the 2021/2022 school year.

The Catholic Education Foundation and the Archdiocese of Louisville jointly announced that tuition assistance awards reached an all-time high 3,400 students, surpassing last year’s record 3,350, while aggregate tuition assistance funding roared to an all-time record $7 million, rocketing past last year’s previous record mark of $6.5 million.

Foundation President Richard A. Lechleiter remarked, “Thanks to the incredible generosity of our donors and the unwavering support
Why Can’t it be You?

Six short years ago, Julie Baum, a senior member of our team here at the Foundation, met a young Latino girl at an Open House at St. Edward School in Jeffersontown. A very effective self-advocate, she told Julie that she wanted to start her seventh-grade year at St. Edward. She explained that her public middle school experience was not a good one, and she desperately wanted a change. In her words, “I really want to go to St. Edward, but we don’t have the money. Can you help me?”

So we went to work and did our thing, putting together a tuition assistance package that allowed both her and her younger sister to attend St. Edward School.

But that was just the beginning.

For the next two years, she shines like a star! Her studies improve, her friendships expand, her faith becomes stronger and she is happier!

As it were, we maintained contact with her and her family to see how things were going. In the fall of her eighth-grade year, we asked the age-old question, “Where do you want to go to high school?” Her immediate response – Mercy Academy.

But she knew it couldn’t happen. Even with Mercy’s best tuition assistance award, it wouldn’t be nearly enough for her family. She lamented in disappointment that her Catholic school dream was fading.

And then Julie went to work again, negotiating with the school and finding a private benefactor who would supplement the $5,000 per year gap (the Foundation’s tuition assistance funding currently ends after the eighth grade).

Last May, this young Latino student graduated from her dream school, Mercy Academy. And this fall, with the guidance and accompaniment of the Foundation staff, she is a proud freshman in the business school at Bellarmine University.

Four years from now, she will be a well-educated, ambitious, bilingual and faith-filled woman who will take the world by storm and write her own script for success.

What could be better!!

What seemed an unlikely pathway six years ago has changed this young woman’s life – and that of her family - forever. Thanks to each and every one of our donors!

of our funding partners - even during a world-wide health pandemic - we provided tuition assistance awards to every single family who demonstrated a financial need – for the seventh year in a row! This astonishing result serves as a great testament to the power of Catholic education and our community’s recognition of its importance and its future. Indeed, at a time when everyone’s lives have been so disrupted, our entire community rallied together and embraced the excitement and opportunity behind our slogan, “The Answer is YES!”

The Most Reverend Joseph E. Kurtz, D. D., Archbishop of Louisville and Foundation Board Vice Chair, reflected with gratitude on the continued progress to improve access to Catholic education. “I am deeply thankful that we can come together to create so much hope for so many families. God has blessed our families, our schools and this community. Please join me in giving thanks to the Lord that a record number of families can have access to this life-changing opportunity called Catholic education.”

Dr. Mary Beth Bowling, Superintendent of Catholic schools, commented, “The collaboration between the Catholic Education Foundation, the Archdiocese of Louisville, and our Catholic schools is so vital to the success of so many students. I applaud the Foundation staff for their tireless efforts to make Catholic education accessible to thousands of families in our central Kentucky community. Way to go, team!!”

Under the Foundation’s leadership, a collaborative partnership among the schools, the Archdiocese of Louisville, Community Catholic Center and the Foundation itself combines resources and shares data to determine the best possible award for each family who qualifies for financial assistance. Mr. Lechleiter added, “Now in our seventh year, this creative and highly successful way of allocating funds ensures that each family receives a fair award and that more families are assisted than ever before. What could be better!”

The record $7 million of funding was provided by the Foundation ($3.5 million), parishes and schools ($2.0 million), and the Archdiocese of Louisville, including Community Catholic Center ($1.5 million).

The Window Never Closes!

The Foundation continues to receive calls from families who are seeking a better opportunity for their children.

Foundation Board Chair Charlie Dahlem commented, “While we are elated that the Foundation and our partners are supporting another record number of families, our work is never done. Each day, families are reaching out to us in search of a better educational pathway for their children. Indeed, our message of growth, outreach and inclusion in Catholic schools is working – even in a pandemic. To every family who yearns for the great gift of a Catholic education, “The Answer is YES!”

Mr. Lechleiter concluded, “I couldn’t be more proud of our 48 Catholic primary and secondary schools across central Kentucky! And I want to pay special tribute to Archbishop Kurtz, Dr. Brian Reynolds, Dr. Mary Beth Bowling, and all of our school leaders and instructors who have led the way in standing tall for our students and their families throughout the pandemic. What a debt of gratitude we owe to each of them!”

Foundation Board of Directors and Staff Host Retirement Party for Archbishop Kurtz

On August 12, the Catholic Education Foundation Board of Directors, staff and other guests gathered to pay tribute to the Archbishop Kurtz for his steadfast support of Catholic education in the Archdiocese of Louisville. The retirement party took place at the barn on the grounds of Neil and Anne Ramsey’s home. Over 100 guests attended the event to show their appreciation for the leader of our Catholic church in central Kentucky.

Archbishop Kurtz commented, “I am very proud of the collaboration we have developed with the Catholic Education Foundation and I am so thankful to all of the donors and board members who have helped shape Catholic education in our community. Catholic education is so important in transforming the lives of young children and their families and I am so thankful for the impact we have made together!”

Foundation President Rich Lechleiter added, “We have been so God-blessed to have Archbishop Kurtz serving as our shepherd for over 14 years. His leadership has enabled Catholic schools to become accessible to those who only dream of this life-changing journey. On a personal note, I so appreciate our friendship and his sage advice. He has taught me so much in my role here at the Foundation.”

Foundation Senior Director Julie Baum commented, “The Catholic School Plan, launched by Archbishop Kurtz in 2014, has greatly enhanced the ability of the Foundation to reach literally thousands more students each year. We are so lucky to have had Archbishop leading our local church and we wish him well in his retirement!”

Archbishop Kurtz commented, “The Catholic Education Foundation’s growing impact on families and our community is resounding and I couldn’t be more proud to be a part of this great mission. This new commitment by all my fellow priests speaks to our steadfast belief in Catholic education and its importance in shaping the lives of young students and their families. We are deeply committed to making this life-changing experience accessible to everyone!”

Foundation President Rich Lechleiter remarked, “All of us here at the Foundation are completely overjoyed! What a beacon of hope for a family who yearns for a Catholic education but can’t make the journey by themselves! We are indeed humbled by the amazing kindness and generosity of Archbishop Kurtz and our clergy. Because of all of you, now more than ever before, we can say with confidence to all our families in need – “The Answer is YES!”

School Superintendent Dr. Mary Beth Bowling noted, “The future of Catholic education in the Archdiocese of Louisville is so promising for families who want this pathway for their children. And this commitment creates a renewed sense of mission to provide the best spiritual, academic and extracurricular experience to our students and their families!”

Foundation Board Chair Charlie Dahlem rejoiced, “What a historic day for the Catholic Education Foundation of Louisville! And what a day it is for all our Catholic school families who need us, both now and in the future! How truly grateful we are. To Archbishop Kurtz and all his fellow priests, you’re THE BEST!”

Young Donor Inspires Foundation Staff

Recently, sixth-grader Abby Smith and her father, Brooken, visited the Foundation’s offices, but it was no ordinary visit. Abby presented a $1,000 check to the Foundation staff in support of our mission to provide tuition assistance to a family who can’t afford the full cost of a Catholic elementary school.

Abby’s family provides her and her siblings the opportunity to research local charities and choose where they would like their donation directed. Abby, a student at Holy Trinity School, researched the Foundation’s website and decided to direct her philanthropic funds to help another child have the same opportunity she is afforded to attend a Catholic school.

Foundation Director of Development Kevin Woodward commented, “The entire staff was touched by Abby’s generosity and it was so inspiring to meet her and learn about her interest in helping kids attend a local Catholic school. I’m also impressed by her family’s commitment to instill a sense of philanthropy and giving back at such a young age.”

Abby’s favorite school subject is Language Arts and she loves to draw.
Salute to “THE GAME” Event Roars to New Fundraising Record

And what an event it was!!! On September 23, the Foundation hosted its 14th annual Salute to THE GAME luncheon at the Galt House Hotel in downtown Louisville, celebrating the storied Saint Xavier – Trinity high school football rivalry with lots of excitement and a fabulous result. This year’s event attracted 600 guests and raised an all-time high $525,000, roaring past last year’s previous mark of $500,000. Since its inception, the Salute luncheon event has raised over $3.7 million in support of the Foundation’s tuition assistance efforts throughout the Archdiocese of Louisville.

Foundation President Rich Lechleiter remarked, “This hallmark community event continues to lift our mission to incredible new heights like no one ever thought possible! How blessed we are by all of our friends in the Saint Xavier and Trinity communities for allowing the Foundation to benefit from THE GAME.”

For the second consecutive year, Independence Bank served as the Lead Sponsor of the event with an investment of $40,000. Mr. Lechleiter remarked, “To President Louis Straub and all our friends at Independence Bank, THANK YOU for your leadership in making this event the largest of its kind across the Commonwealth!”

Trinity alumnus and local radio personality Tony Vanetti served as the event’s master of ceremonies. The event spotlighted both coaches as well as a student-athlete from each school. Graven Monsour, a senior offensive lineman and Class President, represented the Shamrocks while senior linebacker and National Honor Society member Ben Marks stood up for the Tigers.

Trying to think of the perfect gift to give this Christmas?

Give the Gift of a Catholic Education!

Your investment creates a Catholic school journey - life’s longest lasting gift - for a young child who needs you the most.

At the Catholic Education Foundation, the Answer is Yes!
Endowments, Planned Giving and Bequests are on the Rise at the Foundation

While meeting the current needs of our families is always front-of-mind, continuing to grow our permanent endowment is a mission imperative. And so many families are responding to this call!

Remember, you and your family can establish your own named endowment inside the Foundation – and your initial investment can be relatively small. Each year going forward, you can add to it. Over time, your endowment fund can grow to be quite meaningful in providing tuition assistance to a young child in need.

While there are many different reasons that families have been inspired to establish an endowment, a common theme has emerged. People love how much Catholic education impacted their lives and they want to pay it forward. Here are a few endowments recently established by donors along with their stories:

The Thomas and Blanche Carroll Endowment Fund

In the summer of 2021, Blanche Carroll established the Thomas and Blanche Carroll Endowment Fund in loving memory of her late husband and in dedication to the gift of Catholic Education that she and her family received. “Catholic education was such an important part of our lives for which we will be eternally grateful. We are hopeful that our endowment will impact the lives of those who could never afford to attend our local Catholic schools. We feel God-blessed to be able to help others gain the same extraordinary educational experience that our family accessed.”

The Gahafer Family Endowment Fund

The Gahafer family recently founded a permanent endowment fund in honor and memory of their parents, Mary Ann and Joseph Gorman ‘Gus’ Gahafer.

While it was a financial challenge for each of their respective families, Mary Ann and Gus were both privileged to attend Catholic schools while growing up in Louisville. They continued to make Catholic education a priority for their own family and sacrificed to send all seven of their children to Catholic grade schools and high schools throughout the country while Gus pursued a career in naval aviation. The family ultimately returned to Louisville as active members of the St. Rita and St. Louis Bertrand parishes.

Mary Ann and Gus recognized the value of faith-based education, especially the integrity and character that is developed through Catholic formation. They were both outstanding role models of service to others and contributed generously to their school and parish. In their parent’s honor, their children established this fund to afford others the opportunities that Mary Ann and Gus gave them.

The William D. Hammer, Sr. & Joan Wagner Hammer Family Endowment Fund

This past summer, the six Hammer siblings – Reverend William D. Hammer, Jr., Dr. Robert G. Hammer, Mary Beth Hammer, Thomas J. Hammer, Margaret Hammer Adams and Joan Ellen Hammer – came together to honor their late parents by establishing a permanent endowment in their memory.

“When we talked about the best way to honor the legacy of our parents, supporting Catholic education was the first thing that came to mind. Catholic education is a gift and lifestyle that nurtures the mind, body and soul of children. What better way to honor our parent’s commitment to our Catholic education than to help others, for generations to come, by facilitating access to resources for families who yearn for this educational and faith formational experience.”

The Father Shibu Puthenpurackal Endowed Scholarship Fund

Under the leadership and generosity of Dr. Bill Rothwell, several parishioners at St. Margaret Mary recently founded a permanent endowment fund in honor of Fr. Shibu Puthenpurakkal.

Fr. Shibu is a priest from southern India who served as part-time associate pastor at St. Margaret Mary while working to earn his MBA from Bellarmine University. In just a short time, Fr. Shibu quickly gained the love and admiration of the St. Margaret Mary community. He is best remembered by parishioners for his wonderful sermons and his strong devotion to Catholic teachings and the universal nature of our Church. He served not only the people of St. Margaret Mary, but also those in nursing homes and the homebound.
Throughout its history, the Foundation has had the great fortune to attract men and women who dedicate themselves to our mission through service to the Board of Directors. Over the past two years, eleven long-standing Board members have retired, each of whom played an important role in the organization’s historic expansion. They are: Hank Robinson (Board Chair), Steve Embry (Secretary), Mike Ash, Ben Fultz, Fr. Mark Hamilton, Donna Heitzman (Investment Committee Chair), John Malloy, Neil Ramsey, Bill Roby, Sr. (Development Committee Chair), Leisa Schulz and Len Spalding.

Board Chair Charlie Dahlem noted, “We have been so blessed with the talents and leadership of so many impressive Board members.
